

Governance of the School of Humanities

The School of Humanities within the College of Arts and Sciences serves the greater university community by (1) providing instruction; (2) conducting scholarly investigations and research; and (3) applying knowledge resulting from this scholarly activity to the solution of the problems that affect Florida, the nation, and the world.

The conduct

Tenure and Promotion Committee as part of a consent agenda for approval, as per the guidelines of the CAS committee.

4. Meetings:

i. The previous Chair of each Standing Committee shall assume responsibility for convening the Committee for its first meeting of the new academic year. Subsequent meetings shall be called by the new Chair as nec